

The Eurolife Distinguished Faculty Lecture Series Presents:

Discovery of latency antigens of M.tuberculosis, and their potential as TB biomarkers, TB diagnostics and targets for TB vaccination

by

Tom H.M. Ottenhoff

Professor in Immunology

Head of Group, Immunology and Immunogenetics of Bacterial Infectious Diseases

Leiden University Medical Centre

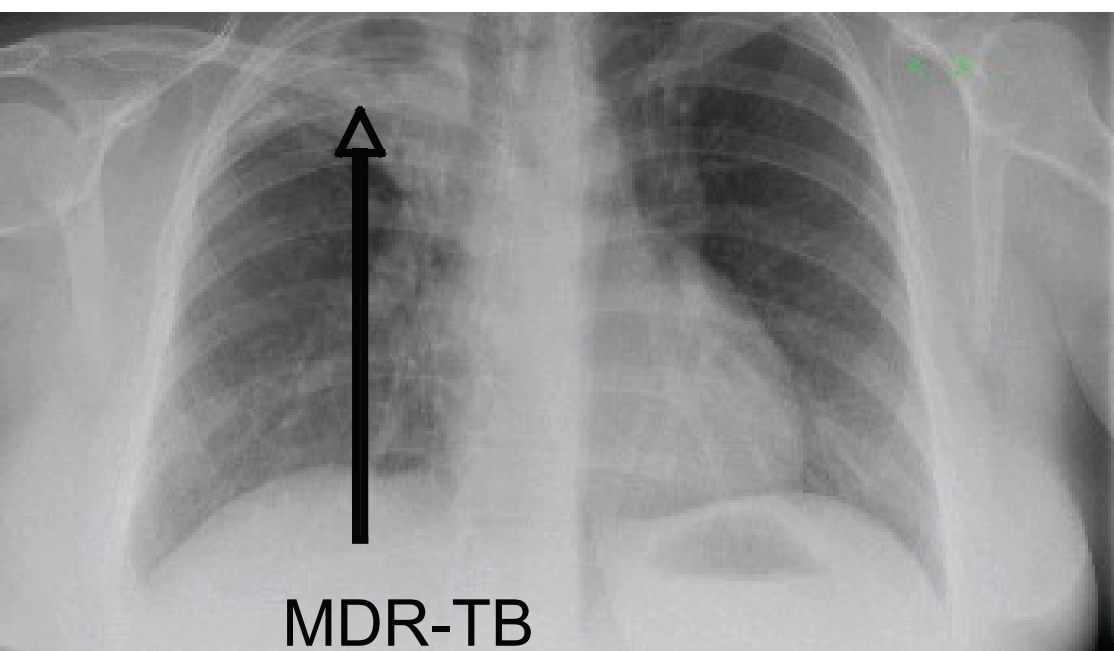

The Netherlands

April 13th 6pm in the Durkan Lecture Theatre

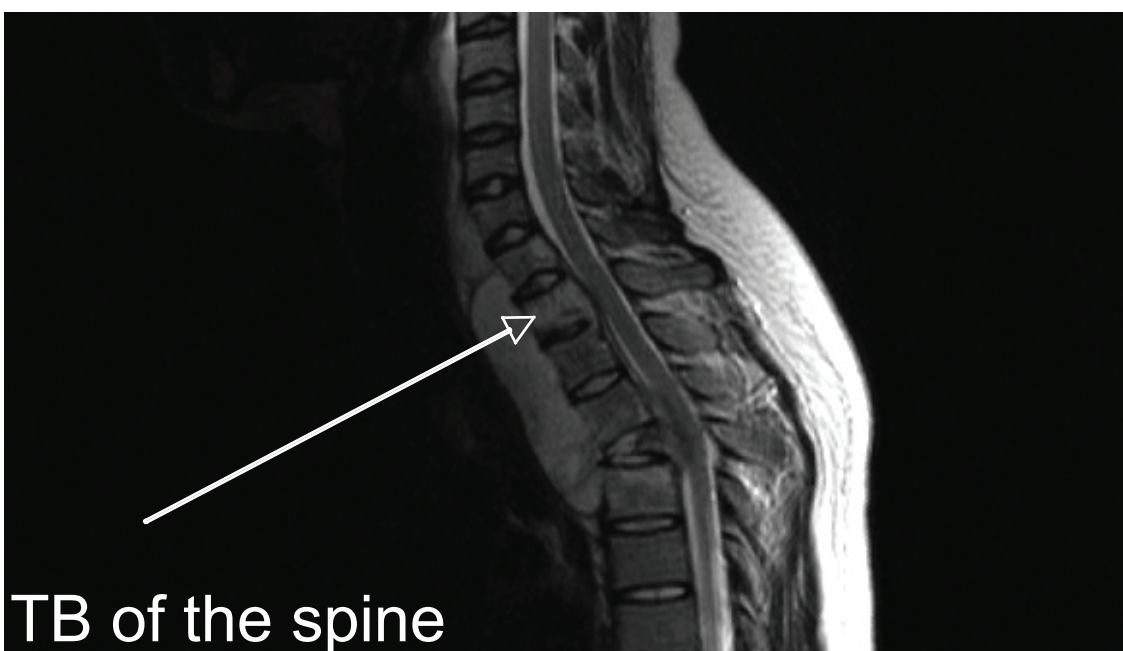

Trinity Centre, St. James's Hospital

Followed by Reception

All Welcome

MDR-TB

TB of the spine

BREIF BIOGRAPHY

Prof Ottenhoff research focuses principally on mycobacterial related diseases and in particular TB. He has published over 250 papers in leading journals including Nature and Science and has acted as an advisor to the WHO, EC and Gates foundation. He is a member of the European Academies of Science Advisory Council on drug resistant TB and the TB Vaccines for the World scientific advisory panel and also works extensively in the international health arena.